

ONLINE TICKETING

Online ticketing is essential. More and more people search for and buy all their tickets online, whether its music, movies, comedy, or theatre.

That being said, we strongly suggest you investigate online ticketing.

Some schools have systems set up, but others do not.

If that is case, contact various organizations and find the one that is right for you.

Find out:

- 1 – do they print the tickets or simply send a list?
- 2 – is there a long-term contract?
- 3 – can you change the number of tickets available via online sales to match the need/demand?
- 4 – will you always get to talk to the same person when discussing business?
- 5 – what the cost of the service? Are there any additional charges?

These are just a few of the questions you should ask. Find the company that is right for, and make sure they answer all of your questions.

Here are some companies to consider:

TicketMaster – Ticketmaster.com
Musictoday – musictoday.com
University tickets – universitytickets.com

There are others, but these are some the “larger” services available
